Glacial Expedition – Day 7 (26th August, 2025) Report

Gangtok, August 28, 2025:

On the seventh day of the Glacial Expedition, the team was divided into two subgroups. Subgroup A successfully returned to Gangtok, retracing their route through Lungnak La, Donkiala, Lachung, Chungthang, Safo, Rangrang and finally reaching Gangtok.

Meanwhile, Subgroup B continued its journey further up the Lhonak Valley, ascending towards Zanak on the way to South Lhonak Lake.

The expedition was supported by the Indian Army, whose All-Terrain Vehicles facilitated safe passage across swollen rivers and by the Indo-Tibetan Border Police (ITBP) which extended crucial medical assistance and satellite communication support.
